Start your day with a visit to Nob Creek Pottery. Nestled in the rainforest, the gallery has a superb collection of work by resident potters and display of Australian glass, wood work and jewellery. ## DAY TRIP 2 - Reef & 'Great' Islands

Where:
Yeppoon to Great Keppel Island

HIGHLIGHTS

Explore the underwater playground of the Southern Great Barrier Reef. Swim, snorkel, and soak in the clear waters of Great Keppel Island.

A visit to Yeppoon and the Capricorn Coast is simply not complete without a visit to Great Keppel Island. The Keppel Islands lie a mere stones throw from the mainland and can be explored via ferry, Island Hopping Charters or Cruising Adventures- all departing from either Keppel Bay Marina or Pier One.

Once you arrive at Great Keppel Island, you will notice that bare feet and board shorts could be mistaken for the formal dress code. Swim and soak in the clear water of 17 different beaches or enjoy snorkeling the fringing reef right off the beach. There are 7 excellent snorkelling locations all withing walking distance from the main beach. Scuba Diving is also available from Great Keppel Island.

Great Keppel is approximately 1454 hectares in size and has an interior rich with native flora, all waiting for you to explore. Ninety percent of the island is bushland and there are several bush walking tracks that disperse trekkers around the island to untouched beaches, or spectacular lookouts. These range in duration and difficulty, from a leisurely stroll, to challenging hikes.

Let's not forget water sports! If you have any energy left after all that snorkeling and bushwalking then why not try stand up paddle boarding, kayaking tours, tube riding and catamaran cruising.

If this is all too much fun for one day, Great Keppel boasts a variety of accommodation and a scenic bar and bistro for anyone wishing to 'drop anchor' for a few days.

DAY TRIP 3 - A tale of mighty ships

Distance:
18km One Way

Suitable:
For all vehicles

Where:
Cooee Bay to Emu Park

HIGHLIGHTS

- Beaches galore
- Magnificent Views
- Lookouts
- Local History
- Spot a Turtle
- Walking Trails
- Swim all year around

Journey from Wreck Point Lookout to the Singing Ship memorial, taking in views, pristine beaches and some turtle spotting along the way.

Kickstart your day with a delicious breakfast from one of the local cafes and then head to the quaint locality of Cooee Bay. Here you will find Wreck Point Lookout. Offering more than just spectacular views 360 degree views, this 'must see' spot is the final resting site of the ill-fated schooner ship, the Selina. She had departed the Pine River north of Brisbane on 31 July 1847 bound for Sydney with a cargo of cedar logs and carrying a crew including Captain Cameron. Selina failed to arrive in Sydney and was not sighted again until she was found 15 months later near this spot, now known as Wreck Point.

When you are ready to hit the road again, make your way a mere 6km south along the Scenic Highway to the southern end of Kemp Beach which forms part of the Capricorn Coast National Park. Take the coastal walk up Bluff Point for magnificent views across the sparkling ocean to the Keppel Islands at Turtle Lookout - and, you guessed it, spot turtles swimming in the water beneath you.

From here the drive continues along the Scenic Highway south and we hope you like beaches because you are about to see quite a few... Enjoy solo sun-lounging on beaches away from crowds. Swim in safe, calm waters and try beach fishing. There's a beach for everyone! Every beach buff will find a favourite stretch of sand with so many family-friendly and dog-friendly options.

At the end of the coastline you will discover the beautiful seaside town of Emu Park. Emu Park is home to the famous Singing Ship sculpture. Set against a spectacular coastal vista, the majestic monument commemorates the area's legacy of the historical explorations of Captain James Cook. A gentle sea breeze produces a musical sound through fluted pipes.

Just below the Singing Ship is a viewing deck and boardwalk that makes up part of the Centenary of ANZAC Memorial Walk. The impressive boardwalk hugs the coastline and remembers our community's brave servicemen and women.

Emu Park Main Beach is a calm beach with a grassy picnic area and playground. The beach is patrolled during peak times.
